You won't believe that the people of the 21st century depend on technology. Just, try to tell people that we no longer need mobile phones, they will laugh right away, isn't it? Moreover, you say that we no longer use email or social media, they will not believe you. We can even go shopping just sitting in one place, we can see and talk to other people, and events in the world reach us within seconds. Things like the refrigerator, air conditioner, easier access to information, the internet, etc. made our life very comfortable, but this level of success comes with many disadvantages.

Many teens spend more time on social media, internet surfing and playing video games, leaving their real life. Modern technology has replaced a large number of human jobs; machines and robots are doing the same work that humans used to do. So companies may not need many human workers. Smartphones and computers distract children and teens from moral and educational values. Students can copy ready-made projects and homework from other sources.

Moreover, at home these students do not do exercise or read the new lesson before going to school, because they are busy with social media. Secondly, these

A funny thing happened when I was out with my friends. It was Saturday night and we were walking for an hour looking for a place to eat. "I've been looking for you, boys," he said" I've come to the past to warn you, I'm a time traveller. You must know the truth before it's too late."

We looked at each other, nobody knew what to say. We were frightened, but we kept listening to him. "This information will change your life forever! And the thing is ..." Somebody shouted, "There you are!"

We saw a police officer running from the same corner. He put handcuffs on the man before he could escape. The officer said sorry to us for what happened. He explained that the man had been walking through the entire city making jokes and scaring people. He apologized again and then both went away. Finally, we kept walking and we found a café called "Future". We spent all the night laughing and talking about this funny and strange experience.

The Aswan Botanical Garden is home to thousands of birds and many plants come from many parts of the world like Far East India and Africa. The Aswan Botanical Garden offers a beautiful escape from the city. It's on Kitchener's Island, to the west of Elephantine Island. It's one of two islands in the Nile to the city-centre of Aswan Egypt. The Aswan Botanical Island is divided into 27 squares which look like a chess board. A number of rare palm trees can be found there on the Island.

The only way to reach the Aswan Botanical Garden is by boat, either on one of the public ferries or by felucca tour while sightseeing this beautiful part of the Nile River. The Kitchener's island has three entrances. The main entrance of the Island is on the northern end of the island. The best way to see the whole island, without having to walk a lot, is to enter the main entrance and walk the full length of the island until you reach the southern end; book a felucca from there and ask the captain to wait for you at the other end.

Planning a great community service project doesn't need a lot of work. There are many ways you can improve your community with groups, big or small. Collecting food is the main one. Contact your local food bank and they will provide you with the necessary information and materials to have a food drive. Encourage people to donate their favourite food items. Starting a recycling programme is a big task. When you recycle, those items can be turned into amazing things. A community garden is a great way to communicate with your community and provide healthy food.

Think of making a garden just for children, so they can learn about the process of gardening. A community cleanup will improve the look of your neighbourhood or park and encourage people to keep the space looking great. Donating blood can also help the community. It helps save many lives. Giving new coats to kids in need is a great way to serve your community. You select the school, and hand out the new coats. Volunteering is a great experience that brings people of all ages together for a good cause.

"A short story you read"

My favourite story is Alice's adventures in Wonderland. It's a children's story by Lewis Carrol. He wrote it in 1865. Alice is the main character of the story. She is a clever girl. She's also sensible. She goes to Wonderland and meets a lot of interesting characters there. She meets the White Rabbit who is always busy and in a hurry. The Cheshire Cat is a funny animal. He has got a big smile and he is very friendly. He tells Alice about Wonderland and helps her to find different places and characters. The Queen of Hearts is not very nice. She is a scary person. She is always angry and she shouts at people. Alice is brave, so she is not frightened of her. At the end of the story, all the characters help Alice so she can go home again. I learned from this story that friendship is very important to us.

I like handball very much. It is my favourite sport. I was so proud that the 2021 World Men's Handball Championship was held in Egypt. It was from the 13th to the 31st of January 2021. It was also the third World Championship held in Africa, the second in Egypt, and the first to be held outside of Europe since 2015. There were over 600 competitors from 32 countries.

The 32 teams were divided into eight groups of four teams each. It was a great event. The medical team has worked for months to make the tournament safe. Players and people working at the tournament have used four hotels and stayed inside a bubble. These hotels all have a health centre and every team has had a doctor to work with them. We were all very proud of our beloved country and the success of organising the championship.

"A review of online shopping"

We all know that shopping online is very useful because it has many advantages. It saves time and money. You buy what you want without moving. However, my opinion about that changed when I decided to buy a present online. I visited websites for electronics until I found this website. I ordered a toaster as a present for my mother on her birthday. The website said the delivery would be in two days, but the delivery arrived in two weeks. I opened the box and put it in the kitchen. It looked great and good, but when I plugged it in, it made smoke then a fire. That was terrible. At once, I called them and asked them I want to send it back. They were kind and they were sorry. After two days a new toaster arrived. It was really great in the kitchen. My mum was very happy with it.

"A review about a place you have just visited"

Last weekend, I went on a nice trip to Ismailia, which is between Port Said and Suez. The Suez Canal runs through the city before it reaches the sea. Ismailia is beautiful. There are attractive buildings, interesting monuments and lots of gardens. Around 350,000 people live here, but since traffic is slow, there isn't much pollution. Ismailia is peaceful, but it isn't boring! There are lots of things to do here, especially at the weekends. I go to Lake Timsah, which is near the city, with my family. It's a beautiful lake with beaches around it. There are some interesting museums in Ismailia! My favourite is the Natural Science Museum because I'm interested in animals. It was a nice trip and I enjoyed there. It's a good place to go at the weekend.

I also have a microwave. It helps me cook food very quickly. It is expensive. My dad bought me a toaster last year. I use it to make bread turn brown. It is less useful than the microwave. It is also less expensive. I have a big fridge. I use it to keep foods and drinks cool. It is the most useful item in my kitchen. It is the most expensive, too.

When this bad experience of my life happened, I was about ten. I went to the village where I was born to spend my summer holiday. The way to the village was too long, but it was very amazing to listen to birds' songs, to notice sunrise behind mountains, to watch nature and the lifestyle of hardworking people in the field. When I reached there, my grandparents were very happy to see me. The next day, my grandparents were going to work in the field. I wanted to go there with them. We went to the field and I helped to pick peppers. First, it looked very easy. I worked carefully. However, I touched my eyes with my hands. Suddenly, I felt fire on my eyes. I began to cry. It was burning and very terrible. I could not open my eyes and did not see anything. While I was running, I fell down and got hurt in my head. First, my grandmother washed my face and then put ice onto my head. Eventually, I felt relaxed. I thanked my grandparents, especially my grandmother. Now I am fourteen, I still remember this event.

A funny thing happened when I was out with my friends. It was Saturday night and we were walking for an hour looking for a place to eat. Everything looked to be normal, but suddenly something happened. A strange man dressed in strange bright clothes turned the corner and ran to us. "I've been looking for you, boys," he said "I've come to the past to warn you, I'm a time traveller. You must know the truth before it's too late." We looked at each other, nobody knew what to say. We were frightened, but we kept listening to him. "This information will change your life forever! And the thing is ..." Somebody shouted,

"There you are!"

We saw a police officer running from the same corner. He put handcuffs on the man before he could escape. The officer said sorry to us for what happened. He explained that the man had been walking through the entire city making jokes and scaring people. He apologised again and then both went away.

Finally, we kept walking and we found a café called "Future". We spent all the night laughing and talking about this funny and strange experience.

Sometimes it is clear when someone is going through a hard time, but there is no simple way of knowing if they have mental health problems. Sometimes you don't need to know. It's important to respond sensitively to someone who seems troubled. Although certain problems are common with mental health problems, no two people behave in exactly the same way when they are unwell. If you know the person well, you may notice changes in their behaviour or mood.

There are a number of ways you can help a friend or relative who has a mental health problem. If you are worried about someone it can be difficult to know what to do. When you know there is a problem, it is important not to wait.

Mindfulness means paying full attention to something. It means slowing down to really notice what you're doing. When you're mindful, you're taking your time. You're focusing in a relaxed, easy way. You need to practise mindfulness to get good at it. Training the mind takes practice. The more you practise, the better you get. If you practise mindfulness exercises, being mindful can come naturally when you need it in your everyday life. This can help when you're stressed when you have to do something difficult, or when you have to focus your attention. It's a lot like learning to play the piano. Each time you practise, you're training yourself to play a little bit better. When you practise mindfulness, you're training your attention. It's easy to do, and it just takes a few minutes a day.

Teenage years are the most important times of our lives. While there is excitement, they also go through different problems at home as well as school. There are different problems a teenager faces at school. To name a few are bullying and competition. Some teenagers have a sense of excellence in themselves, so always focus on the weakest amongst them and annoy them. Moreover, this plants fear in younger minds. Furthermore, the rising level of education has pressure on the youth to stay a step ahead of everyone.

On the other hand, the pressure and expectations from parents towards their children lead to stress and anxiety. For example, not being able to share their problems with their parents or friends makes them more disappointed. Furthermore, many parents fail to understand the condition of the child.

However, certain measures can be taken to solve these problems. For example, students at school and colleges are watched, as well as necessary actions are taken up against bullying. Additionally, parents should spend more time with their teenage child. Understanding and guiding them would be extremely helpful in such situations.

Mode of transport is a term of ways of transportation. There are five major modes of transportation. Road transport is like cars, lorries, buses, bicycles, and trucks. It is better for carrying goods over short distances. Railways were developed in the 19th century. Water transport is the cheapest way of transporting heavy goods over a long distance. There are two major types of water transport: Inland water transport (rivers, lakes, and man-made canals) and ocean water transport which carries a lot of the world's heavy goods and passengers from one country to another at the cheapest cost. Air transport is the newest means of transport; it was introduced in 1903 but developed in the 1930s. Pipeline transport is the use of pipes in the transportation of water, oil, and gas. It is safer. "I've been looking for you, boys," he said "I've come to the past to warn you, I'm a time traveller. You must know the truth before it's too late." We looked at each other, nobody knew what to say. We were frightened, but we kept listening to him. "This information will change your life forever! And the thing is ..." Somebody shouted, "There you are!"

We saw a police officer running from the same corner. He put handcuffs on the man before he could escape. The officer said sorry to us for what happened. He explained that the man had been walking through the entire city making jokes and scaring people. He apologised again and then both went away.

Finally we kept walking and we found a café called "Future". We spent all the night laughing and talking about this funny and strange experience.

You need to think carefully and weigh all the advantages and disadvantages of online shopping before deciding on whether or not to trade online. Delivery can take long time. Although it does not take more than 15 minutes to choose your favorite items, the delivery of the product to the customer's door takes about 1-3 weeks. You can't try the product before buying. A person did not know the value of an item. You can't try clothes and shoes before buying them online. You can't check electronics products whether they are working or not until you receive them. The product that a customer is going to buy might cost him cheaper than the cost of delivery. This means that the total price of online shopping for this item is more than or double that of in-person shopping. Many sellers make the return process quick, but few make it extra difficult for people to get their product back. You can't get refunded for any shipping costs most of the time.

I prepared for the journey for the whole month and had the hopes of joining other fans in watching the World Cup. After winning a ticket from the national radio station, I was ready to pick the ticket and prepare for the next day's flight to Germany. The journey started well but ended badly. The sick woman who joined the vehicle made me understand the meaning of the proverb that says; "Do not judge a book by its cover."

The journey started at seven in the morning. I took a bus to the town where I would collect the ticket, spend the night and fly to Germany the next day, I sat next to a window and watched the trees move quickly. Everyone was comfortable with the speed, but I wished the driver went faster so that I could get my ticket. Suddenly a woman appeared from a nearby hotel and waved at the driver. She looked sick, so we told the driver to stop and pick her. Everyone wanted to help her and give her a seat. After a couple of minutes, the woman stood up and removed her jacket and everything changed. I saw a man with a knife and took our money. He told us all to get off the bus. He took it and left us on the empty road

While younger children need their parents to be in the lead, teenagers need you to be by their side. When it comes to dealing with teenagers, we may use much of the same skills as we did when they were younger. These include being encouraging and enabling, allowing children to learn from their mistakes rather than 'showing them how to do it', accepting they might do it differently from you, and respecting their choices. All of us need to feel safe and protected.

What teenagers want is your love, your care, your respect and your attention. They want to be noticed by you. Too often, because teenagers are being moody, we respond by ignoring them. Teenagers still want to spend time together with their parents and be given the chance they want to be with their friends too. Teenagers also need the activity of physical exercise. They need support in keeping active so that they stay healthy and fit. Teenagers need us to give them choices and give them a chance to make their own decisions.

Sometimes it is clear when someone is going through a hard time, but there is no simple way of knowing if they have mental health problems. Sometimes you don't need to know. It's important to respond sensitively to someone who seems troubled. Although certain problems are common with mental health problems, no two people behave in exactly the same way when they are unwell. If you know the person well, you may notice changes in their behaviour or mood.

There are a number of ways you can help a friend or relative who has a mental health problem. If you are worried about someone it can be difficult to know what to do. When you know there is a problem, it is important not to wait. Waiting and hoping they will come to you for help might lose valuable time in getting them support.

Talking to someone is often the first step to take when you know they are going through a hard time. This way you can find out what is troubling them and what you can do to help.

9th September 2021, Mahmoud Al-Araby passed away on Thursday at the age of 89. He was born in 1932 in Ashmoun, Menoufia. Mahmoud's father died when he was young. He then moved to live in Cairo and worked as a salesman in a small shop. He turned to become the co-founder of one of the largest business in Egypt, Al-Araby Group, in 1964. He also owned many agencies in Egypt, including Sharp, Toshiba, SICO and others. He became a great Egyptian businessperson.

He wrote a book called "The Secret of My Life". He liked to trade from a young age. He was a child who sold toys in the village. When his half-brother found out his talent, he took him to Cairo, where he worked as a salesman in many shops, and then he got a partner and they bought together with their own shop.

In 1975, Al-Araby visited Japan and saw the factories of Toshiba Company. He asked to build a factory for Toshiba in Egypt on the Egypt-Alexandria road. Experts from Japan visited the land and agreed. Al-Haj Mahmoud Al-Araby was awarded the most important Japanese medal (The Medal of the Rising Sun) by the Japanese Emperor Akihito in May 2009.

An online community is no different than any other community except for the fact it's online. It is a group of people with something in common, which could include shared interests, experiences, ideas and goals. An online community is also known as a "Market Research Online Community" (or MROC) where a group of people is asked about their opinions, ideas and feedback about a product, service or any topic of interest. It's really important to realise that a community is about people and not about platforms in the first place. These communities can partially mix with offline communities. Your community of Twitter followers, for example, can include friends, family members, colleagues and customers.

You can benefit from online communities in many ways. They provide ideas in customers' preferences and needs, can increase customer information, improve quality and thought leadership, decrease support costs and allow more ways of working.

On the other hand, online communities almost depend on inputting text which can be challenging for those who can't write, can't spell, don't like to write, have poor keyboard skills, have no access to a keyboard, live with a disability that prevents them from reading text and using a keyboard.

You won't believe that the people of the 21st century depend on technology. Just, try to tell people that we no longer need mobile phones, they will laugh right away, isn't it? Moreover, you say that we no longer use e-mail or social media, they will not believe you. We can even go shopping just sitting in one place, we can see and talk to other people, and events in the world reach us within seconds. Things like the refrigerator, air conditioner, easier access to information, the Internet, etc. made our life very comfortable, but this level of success comes with many disadvantages.

Many teens spend more time on social media, internet surfing and playing video games, leaving their real life. Modern technology has replaced a large number of human jobs; machines and robots are doing the same work that humans used to do. So companies may not need many human workers. Smartphones and computers distract children and teens from moral and educational values. Students can copy ready-made projects and homework from other sources.

Planning a great community service project doesn't need a lot of work. There are many ways you can improve your community with groups, big or small. Collecting food is the main one. Contact your local food bank and they will provide you with the necessary information and materials to have a food drive. Encourage people to donate their favourite food items. Starting a recycling programme is a big task. When you recycle, those items can be turned into amazing things. A community garden is a great way to communicate with your community and provide healthy food. Think of making a garden just for children, so they can learn about the process of gardening. A community clean up will improve the look of your neighbourhood or park and encourage people to keep the space looking great. Donating blood can also help the community. It helps save many lives. Giving new coats to kids in need is a great way to serve your community. You select the school, and hand out the new coats. Volunteering is a great experience that brings people of all ages together for a good cause.
